

Coach Rupp To Be Back For Net Term

Mentor Visits
Europe As Army
Athletic Adviser

Adolph Rupp, globe-trotting mentor of the Kentucky Wildcats, has seen quite a bit of what is left of Europe this summer during his tour with the United States athletic officials who are setting up a program for the army of occupation.

Rupp is working with many of the nation's top-notch coaches on the program. Leaving the states August 15 from New York he flew to Paris by way of Newfoundland. During his stay in Paris he saw Ed Lander, a former UK basketball coach here about the first of November.

After leaving Paris he travelled through Germany, stopping at Frankfurt, Heidelberg, and Mannheim. Then he returned to France by way of St. Germain and Cherbourg where he is now.

After a return to Berlin, Rupp will leave Europe about October 20 and resume his basketball coaching here about the first of November.

'Basic Seven Foods' Theme Of Exhibit

Illustrating the effects of the "basic seven" and the effects when those same seven are omitted from a diet, the latest library lobby exhibit was made by two home economic majors. Constructed this summer as partial requirements in a summer community nutrition workshop, the project was placed in the library in mid-August.

Graduate home ec student Joan Meyer, and Nancy Lockery, president of the home economics club made the exhibit. Dr. Statie Erickson of the department described the purpose of the exhibit as part of a world-wide program of improving the health of citizens.

Dr. Erickson stated, "A nation is only so strong as the health of its people," and this exhibit brings nutritional values close to even a casual student observer.

Posters illustrating indications of good and of poor diet, sample breakfast, lunch and dinner menus containing the "basic seven" food groups made up the exhibit.

Sigma Chi To Give Chapter Scholarship

A two hundred and fifty dollar scholarship has been presented to Lambda Lambda chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity through the Sigma Chi foundation. It is to be awarded to some member of the local chapter on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and personality by a committee made up of University officials and alumni of the fraternity. The scholarship is to be awarded for the 1945-46 school year, and the recipient will be announced soon after the quarter begins.

Donovans To Fete Fresh, New Students

Dr. and Mrs. Herman L. Donovan will entertain with a tea in honor of all freshmen and new students from 3 until 6 p.m. on Wednesday, October 10, at Maxwell place.

Question: What do you think of the University?

Eddie Carr, A.S.S. freshman: There are a lot of pretty women out here!

Helena Marcus, A.S.S. freshman: I think it's grand and I'm glad I didn't go to Chapel Hill.

Billy Gault, A.S.S. freshman: There's just too many women.

Dolores Shaikun, A.S.S. freshman: I think it's a swell place to be.

Frances Combs, Ed., freshman: I wouldn't trade it for any other college.

Nelda Ewing, A.S.S. freshman: For all around college life and education I like it the best.

Joe Childers, Eng. freshman: It's all right, but there's too much walking to it.

Mary Barnes, A.S.S. freshman: Oh, it's wonderful!

John Foote, Eng. freshman: I like it because there's so much social life.

Pledging Ends Rush Week

450 Women
Are Entertained
By Sororities

Pledging ceremonies today and tomorrow climax a rush week in which over 450 rushes and the members of 10 active sororities participated from Saturday, September 29 through Thursday, October 4.

Activities opened Saturday with four teas given by Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, and Kappa Delta. Sunday afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. five other groups held teas at their homes. They were Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Tau Alpha Pi and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Sunday night two newly-established groups, Delta Zeta and Kappa Alpha Theta entertained.

Parties This Week

Other parties this week included: Monday, 3 to 6:30 p.m.: Chi Omega's circus; Delta Delta Delta's, Kappa Delta's, and Alpha Xi Delta's School Days; Kappa Alpha Theta's Gay Nineties.

Tuesday, 3 to 6:30 p.m.: Alpha Delta Pi's circus; Alpha Gamma Delta's Western saloon; Delta Zeta's Kappa Kappa Gamma's college sports; Zeta Tau Alpha's school days; and Tau Alpha Pi's picnic.

Wednesday, 3 to 6 p.m.: Alpha Delta Pi's Monte Carlo; Alpha Gamma Delta's Arabian Nights; Kappa Alpha Theta's Corral; Kappa Kappa Gamma's Pink Party; and Zeta Tau Alpha's bazaar.

Wednesday, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.: Alpha Xi Delta's Cocktail Party; Chi Omega's colonial party; Delta Delta Delta's Hell, Heaven and Earth; Delta Zeta's, and Kappa Delta's Derby.

Preference Parties

Thursday night preference parties had the following themes: Tau Alpha Pi, Gay Nineties; Kappa Alpha Theta, Hour of Charm; Zeta Tau Alpha, Candlelight tea; Delta Delta Delta, cabaret; Chi Omega, White tea; Kappa Kappa Gamma, tea; Alpha Gamma Delta, Heaven; Alpha Delta Pi, Black Diamond Coffee; Kappa Delta, White rose tea; and Alpha Xi Delta, Stardust Party.

Pledges will be announced in next week's Kernel.

Dunham To Play For Military Ball

Sunny Dunham and his orchestra will play for the first formal military ball of the fall season.

Sponsored by the men of the Army Specialized Training program on campus, the dance is to be given October 12, and will be preceded by a dinner in the Student Union commons for the army men and their dates.

Tickets will be on sale in the military department for only one hundred and fifty University civilian couples. These tickets go on sale today.

The theme of the dance will be all maneuvers.

Two-Forty Club To Be Reorganized

The Committee of Two-Forty, a promotion group composed of two University students from every county in Kentucky, will be organized this year, Elmer G. Sulzer, public relations director announced Monday.

The group, inactive during the war years, has as its object informing Kentuckians of the purpose and work of their state university. One boy and one girl from each county are selected to form a liaison with the back home community. In former years Committee of Two-Forty members have made talks before high school assemblies and written articles for home town newspapers. The group will meet three times yearly.

Y, SUB, SGA To Present College Night

Varied Program
To Be Given
Tomorrow Night

Traditional "College Night," featuring a carnival, an amateur hour, and a dance, will be held from 8 until 12 p.m. tomorrow night in the Student Union building. This entertainment is held annually as an opportunity for upperclassmen to become acquainted with freshmen and new students, and is sponsored by the YMCA, YWCA, Student Union board and the Student Government association.

Entertainment

The Y-sponsored carnival, which will last from 8 until 9 o'clock, will offer a magician, a puppet show, fortune tellers, bingo, a fish pond, silhouette cutters, a crazy house, ring games, movies and darts.

The Student Union board is in charge of the amateur hour to be held between 9 and 10 o'clock. Anyone with talent wishing to enter the amateur contest should contact Mrs. Dorothy Evans, room 121, Student Union building, before noon tomorrow.

Troubadours Play

The Troubadours will play for dancing from 10 to 12. There will be no admission charge.

The College Night planning committee includes Mattie Evelyn Douglas, Clay Salyer, Bill Sturgill, Jack Banahan, and Reginald Bowen.

More Returning GI's Boost UK's Growing Vets' Club

By Mary Lou Patton

The large number of G. I. Joes who have recently turned into Joe Colleges on this campus has been a prominent feature during registration. These men are veterans who have been discharged from the armed forces and who have come to college as they had planned before the war.

One of the greatest aids on college campuses for men coming back to school from the armed forces is the Veterans' Club. UK's Veterans' Club is headed by Lloyd Booth and sponsored by Mr. Bennett H. Wall, professor of history. This club was started last September with only six members but was soon increased to 27 members. Nearly 200 members are expected by the middle of this quarter.

Most of these men, older than the average freshman, are 23 to 25, Rex Turley, one of the six original members, reported. Many had been to colleges for a short time before the war. Fewer than one in four are married, Professor Wall estimated.

The Veterans' Club will sponsor many important convocations this year. Outstanding speakers will be Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia, Senator Joseph Ball of Minnesota, and Senator Wayne Morris of Oregon. Professor Wall also stated that there was a possibility of having

Kernel Staff Will Meet

All students, freshman or otherwise, interested in working on The Kernel news or editorial staff will meet at 4 p.m. Monday in The Kernel newsroom.

Clark To Head Series Of Debates

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the University History department, was named president of the recently organized society for discussion of the Kentucky constitution. Robert K. Cullen, Frankfort, a member of the Statute Revision Commission, was named vice-president, and J. E. Reeves, assistant professor of political science at the University, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Clark said the main objective of the group would be to promote the pros and cons of holding a state constitutional convention in Kentucky.

The group voted to allow the officers to outline a program for a series of debates, which Clark hopes to have completed by the middle of October, with the idea of holding one or two debates before the November general election, and one or two more before the 1946 General Assembly meets in January.

Former Student Home On Leave

Kay Lund, former student and a member of Cwens, is home on leave from WAVE training.

Coeds Hear Organizations' Summaries

Convocation Held
To Acquaint Women
With UK Activity

Summaries of leading campus women's organizations were presented to freshmen and transfer students by representatives of the organizations in a convocation at 10 a.m. in Memorial hall on October 2. Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, presided at the annual convocation and introduced President H. L. Donovan and Dean Leo M. Chamberlain who welcomed the new students to the University. Miss Hazelden and other members of the dean of women's staff were introduced and the names of those not present were read by Mrs. Holmes.

The organ prelude was played by Mrs. Lela Cullis. Miss Elizabeth McNeal gave the invocation and Mrs. Holmes then introduced Dr. Donovan and Dean Chamberlain. Lucille Haney French sang "All the Things You Are" and "Freddie and His Fiddle." Betty Tevis introduced the representatives of the women's organizations who were: Alpha Lambda Delta, Margaret McDowell; Chi Delta Phi, Elizabeth McNeal; Cwens, Carolyn McMeekin; Mortar Board, Betty Ann Brauer; Phi Beta, Alice Dean; Phi Upsilon Omicron, Alice Freeman; Student Union Board, Emily Jones; SuKyl, Jeanne Elliott; Student Government Association, Gwen Pace; K-Dets, Nancy Taylor; Kentucky Kernel, Mildred Long; Kentuckian, Betty Tevis; Women's Athletic Association, Pat Shely; Women's House President's Council, Rebecca Lowe; Women's Pan Hellenic, Frances Street; YWCA, Betty Fleishman; Women's Glee Club, Alice Dean. A preview of social events was given by Mrs. Dorothy Evans and Miss Elizabeth McNeal closed the convocation with benediction.

Special Convocation Held To Welcome New Men Students

A special convocation to acquaint new men students with life on the campus was held Tuesday morning in the assembly room of McVey hall. Dean of men T. T. Jones, YMCA secretary Bart Peak, Prof. B. H. Wall, Director of Men's Dormitories, and William E. Buckler, monitor addressed the meeting.

Jones Welcomes Men

Welcoming the new men to the campus, Dean Jones opened the meeting and introduced Bart Peak. Mr. Peak said, "In order to be well-rounded men we must take full advantage of the intellectual, spiritual, physical and social opportunities which the University offers."

Speaking on life in the dormitory, Professor Wall told the men what they could expect during the following year. He urged the men to remember that there should be a maximum of study and a minimum of noise in the dorm.

Dorm Director Speaks

Mr. Buckler explained the rules and regulations of life in the dorm. "We are interested in the welfare of the many rather than the peculiarities of the few. Too many deserving young men want in the dorm and University to allow those already in to abuse the privileges given them," he said. "We are looking forward to a very cooperative and beneficial year for all," he continued.

Copies of the dorm rules and regulations were passed out to those present at the meeting.

Monitors in Bradley hall for this year are Wesley Pritchard in the basement, Charles Walker, Jr. on the first floor; William E. Buckler on the second floor; Edward Bary on the third floor and Earl K. Turner on the fourth floor.

YMCA Activities To Be Discussed

All the various phases of YMCA activity will be discussed at a meeting which will be held in the card room of the Union building at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday. All men on the campus are invited. William E. Bary, president, announced.

"Every man on the campus, both civilian and AST, should be at this meeting if they are interested in YMCA work," Mr. Bary said.

Bart Peak, general secretary of the YMCA, will lead the discussion. Others taking part on the program, and the committees they represent are as follows: Bill Sturgill, social; Ben Smithson, deputation; Dillard Hillman, social service; Ross Moore, interacial; Joe Ward, spiritual life; and Jimmie Williams, adviser to the Freshman club.

Refreshments will be served.

Fall Quarter Registration Soars To Total 2505 Students With 300 Veterans Enrolled

Number of Women
Entered In School
Highest Since 1939

Enrollment of students at the University has increased 50 per cent since last year at this time. Approximately 2505 students had enrolled at noon yesterday, and Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean of the University, estimated that the number will be increased to 2,700 by next Wednesday, when registration will be ended for the fall quarter.

One year ago yesterday, the University's enrollment was 1,677, and when registration ended it had increased to 1821.

Estimate Was Low

Dean Chamberlain stated that although the enrollment had been estimated at only 2,200, this was a difficult time to predict because the war ended sooner than expected. Besides that more freshmen men have entered the University, because selective service let it be known that if a man entered school, he would not be taken out until he had finished his quarter or semester.

Most of the increase was attributed to the largest enrollment of women students in school history and to the 300 war veterans.

1939 Hit Peak

Since the beginning of the University, the top enrollment was in 1939, with 3,800 students. Dean Chamberlain estimated that in one year, the University's enrollment would be in excess of that of 1939, and that by 1947, it would reach 5,000.

Since approximately 25 percent of the veterans returning to school this year are married, the University has started a movement to obtain 400 prefabricated housing units for these students and their families.

Homes Request Expected

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University stated that regional headquarters of the national housing agency in Chicago had approved the request and that it had been referred to Washington, where final approval is expected shortly.

President Donovan also announced that he would ask the 1946 General Assembly for a capital outlay appropriation which would include funds for a substantial expansion of campus residence halls, but that relief from this source could not be expected short of a year or two if such funds should be approved.

Several plans are under consideration for location of the units, but none has been adopted.

With Lexington residents unable to offer a substantial number of rooms for the overflow from campus residence halls, many war veterans will have to be turned away unless emergency living quarters can be located, Dr. Donovan said. First attention is being given to veterans who will attend the school under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Other universities and colleges are in the same situation, and many are turning away students. The University of Illinois expected to refuse

'One Night In A Schoolroom' To Open Yearly YW Drive

YWCA cabinet members will present a skit, "One Night In A Schoolroom" as the official kick-off of the 1945-46 membership drive at a meeting to be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, October 9, in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union building.

The co-ordinated program of worship, social service, education, and social activities offered by the YWCA will be portrayed. Prospective members will be given an opportunity to join the Y at the close of the meeting, Miss Freeman said.

Blue Feathers

The Y membership drive will continue throughout the week and results will be announced on Friday, October 12. Tables will be placed in the Bookstore and in the great hall of the Union building. Women who join will be given blue feathers to signify that they are YW members. Members will be solicited in sorority houses and in women's residence halls and houses.

Women who join the Y will be given an opportunity at the time they sign membership pledges to signify the committees on which they would prefer to work. YWCA activity groups include social service, economics and labor, worship, Dutch lunch club, interacial problems, World Student Service fund, foreign affairs, social publicity, Y's Guild (bulletin published jointly with the YMCA), Live Yers (office assistants), and membership.

Solicitors

Solicitors in the sorority houses and dormitories include: Alpha Delta Pi, Thelma Spelding; Alpha Gamma Delta, Margaret Skinner; Alpha Xi Delta, Janey Jameson;

15 Summer Students Attain 3. Standing

Fifteen students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University were listed as making all A's for the summer quarter. Dr. Paul B. Boyd, dean of the college, announced.

The students are Richard D. Baker, Somerset; Betty Jane Brook, Louisville; Helen B. Crews, Louisville; Wendell C. Demarcus, Knoxville, Tenn.; Margaret Louise Hocker, South Carrollton; Zella Raye Langworthy, Louisville; Isabel Frances Michelson, Hazelhurst, Wis.; Howard W. Stephenson, Mt. Sterling, and Beverly Anne Brown, Beverly C. Gaulke, Prince Gordon Herrell, Simone L. Hemming, Margaret H. McDowell, Margaret Lee Skinner, and David J. Stanonis, all of Lexington.

Sigma Chi's Edit Bluegrass Sig

The first issue of "The Bluegrass Sig," a quarterly publication of Sigma Chi fraternity has been released.

The magazine serves as a connecting link between the chapter and the chapter's alumni, and gives to all former members all information and news concerning the chapter and its activities.

The fall issue contained articles covering the spring sweetheart dance, campus news, alumni news, names and addresses of all members in service, the chapter's plans for the future, a chapter history, and a brief description of every member of the fraternity. This issue was a memorial to Bernard Gale Neal, former Lambda Lambda chapter president who was killed in action during the Battle of the Bulge last winter.

The publication is edited by Hugh Collett.

Introducing--UK at Peace

This is the year for which students have waited. For four years all big plans and events have been dated "after the war," and now is the time for those plans to materialize. The University is a University at Peace and no longer a University at War.

Building plans for the fieldhouse, and the badly-needed dormitories can be gotten underway. Almost forgotten social events can become traditional again, and organizations can be re-activated. Things no longer need be postponed. The time is now.

Back at the University, from war-time leaves of absence, are twelve faculty members from the Arts and Sciences college. The Colleges of Law, Commerce and Agriculture and Home Economics also have back faculty members from war jobs and service in the army. Courses no longer need be cut down because of faculty limitations.

Two hundred or more veterans,* and the number will increase every quarter, are back at school—wearing the pin-striped suits, or bow ties that they dreamed of. They're all "Joe'd up," and love it, but they are not coming back to college to kill time. This should be a wonderful year for having a good time but there's a lot of hard work and serious thinking to be done.

With their introduction to the University at Peace, and its many possibilities, and new opportunities, new students and upperclassmen must realize their responsibility. There is no place in a post war society for idleness or drifting. The vets know this, and most of them have a purpose in coming to college. Shouldn't those who have been civilians work just as hard and have as definite a purpose?

Time was when too many boys and girls played through four years of college, when wearing the right clothes, being seen in the correct a word to freshmen. We aren't going to advise you to do anything since freshmen have so much advice from so many sources that often it goes in one ear and out the other. However—a suggestion or two.

● Sit down in some quiet corner and think through all the things you've been told to do, and try to integrate the best ideas. That's a good way to avoid confusion.

● Go slow. Don't jump into too much work or too many activities until you're certain what is involved. Then decide what you are most interested in, and take part whole heartedly. It is better to be excellent in a few fields than mediocre in many.

● Be friendly. Meet and like as many persons as possible.

● Conform to the old way of doing things at the University at first. Accepted members of an institution or organization usually resent being told their mistakes by new-comers. When you become one of us, then be unconventional, individualistic, or critical as you please. To coin a phrase, Rome wasn't built in a day.

● Don't worry or be discouraged. Things have a way of working out for the best—and you're certain to feel at home at the University before long.

Then Mr. Herman will play the blues . . . until half past three."

But as great as the Ivy Ball was, it was only another in the long line of traditional Pennsylvania dances which undergraduates looked forward to at least three times every year.

The Mechanics Arts "Coverall" Ball, at Georgia Tech Saturday night promises fun galore. To the best dressed girl, and the worst dressed boy will go gifts from a local department store.

One of the new coeds at Auburn was so dumb that when she was told a fellow classmate had been taking medicine for 3 years, she wanted to know if he wasn't well yet!

Speaking of headlines:

Music, Music everywhere and not a drop at U.K.

With the rapid approach of the football season, it seems that big dances dominate the front page news at most colleges.

Cornell is planning a big dance with George Paxton's orchestra to supply the music. The "Autumn Nocturne" dance at Illinois Tech will have Chuck Cavello's orchestra for a night's entertainment.

Life, Liberty and Pursuit

By Adele Denman

Introducing—Adele Denman, veteran columnist for The Kernel, who last year penned "Box Cars," and will this year write "Life, Liberty and Pursuit" weekly. Miss Denman, A&S junior from Nicholasville is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Guignol, K-Dets, YWCA, Dance committee, and Theta Sigma Phi.

Flash and Stuff! Do you know how lucky you are? There are two girls to every boy on campus this year which is a great step toward freedom from the old days when we were all trying to make dates with our grandfathers.

LIFE:

I hate to do this to you fresh, but no year would be complete without the usual chain of blunders. First, there was the psychology professor, who prided himself on his mastery of psychoanalysis, who vainly tried to calm a frustrated young miss in the registration line. This freshman refused to sign up for more than ten hours. After a lengthy registration sidetrack, the lady still was fearful of committing her mentality to more classes, and the professor exploded. "Young lady, the only way to succeed in college is to get over your inhibitions." "All right," sobbed his victim in a voice denoting impending doom, "Sign me up for five hours of them!"

The great white god of Harlan, by name of Wah Wah Jones has been exhibiting his prowess on both campus and Stoll field. At the same Saturday night, several freshman girls were reducing their lungs to a state of shattered fragments with "Come on Gah Gah, show 'em what you can do."

Speaking of names, the most confusing situation at Patt hall is the Woo-Coo combination. It seems that Coo Hogan and Woo McCauley are roommates and the other residents of the dorm are having a difficult time of it.

Intertains the students and faculty of Tulane University at its dance tomorrow night. The following was the headline in the Tulane Hallabalo.

"SAILORS' STOMP IS SATURDAY: SAILING IS SET FOR ONE BELL"

God made a machine, the machine made men.
Doctors, lawyers, priests and then
The devil got in and stripped the gears
And turned out the first batch of engineers.

—Sidelines

— And then there was the shy young thing who asked the "Y" president if vice-versa meant dirty poetry.

In taking the physicals, another thing happened. One lab assistant remarked rather freshly, "My gawd, what a sunken abdomen that last girl had." The girl overheard, and retorted rather tartly, "It ought to be sunken, I sat on it three hours waiting to get in your office." (Editor's note—questionable posture?)

LIBERTY:

At last there seems to have been some effort made to clean up the fraternity rushing system. The old plan of coaxing boys into a state of 100-proof alcoholic stupor and pledging them will not go again here. The plan is to have the University supervise a 10-day rush period (this may occur three weeks from now). Then when the boys are pledged they must make a 1.0 stand- ing for one quarter before initiation. The Veterans' club will come to the front, just you wait and see. So far they have made an excellent beginning with 200 members. Plans are being made to invite Governor Arnall of Georgia, "The Voice of the New South," and Senator Ball of Minnesota to be future convocation speakers, sponsored by the club.

PURSUIT:

FLASH, FLASH, AND MORE OF THEM!

Wedding bells will ring soon for Lucy Hawkins, Billy Ray Ward is buying rings furiously.

Now for the sad part of the whole campus social life—the unplings. Buddy Gwiltam and Helen Millman. Also Goon Stillman has his pin back. Ethel Blanton is wearing only her Kappa pin these days. Jack Tingle is also on the prowl again.

The combinations that have lasted or re-united are: Joan Ruby and Roger Yost, and Beverly Leachman and Bob Guffy. Mary Fran Helmick is the proud wearer of a ring from Buddy Mead.

Most people claim that Jean Huntsinger is married.

Lib Street has been out with Charlie Jones and enjoyed more of the same.

Wanda Shupert's West Point "A" pin goes well on her sweaters.

The Zetas seem to be holding their own with the navy lately, and Ollie Lee Hays is a star attraction. Registration was a great source of joy to Jack May and Dorothy Desmond, singer at Springhurst.

By the way, Penny Abbott and Corkey Clark, alias Dusty, are unpinned.

Bill Sturgill and brother Barkley, have been dating Judy Johnson and roommate Betty Oates.

Betty Jo Harris and Len Mattingly get along well together.

14 Ugliest File Entries:

Georgia Tech's annual "UGLIEST MAN ON THE CAMPUS" contest got underway Tuesday with 14 candidates vying for the dubious honor

The winner will receive a book of tickets for IFC dances, a dinner at the Rainbow Roof, transportation from the dances to the Rainbow Roof, and a date if he can't get one himself.

THE SALT

By Billie Fischer

SHAKER

Introducing Billie Fischer, who is The Kernel's New York correspondent for the time being. Her column, "The Salt Shaker," will be mailed each week from the big town with news of Kentuckians there. Miss Fischer, who is doing some of her junior work by correspondence, from her home in New York, was a Kernel columnist last year and was also active at the Guignol.

New York City

People say that New York has everything—which may be true. (And, of course, those people are New Yorkers.) But we were thinking how lovely it would be if the University of Kentucky were to be transferred up to Central Park! In other words: WE MISS KENTUCKY. No, don't give us any sympathy. We left UK to take this little "rest" and if we die of longing for the Blue Grass—till.

It felt swell to see Kentucky faces up here in the land of stone and steel and strikes. We'll never forget the night that Nancy Ellen Taylor and a bunch of us gave Betty "Jocko" Ginocchio a birthday party at the Astor Roof. Sammy Kaye's band was playing there at the one offered us jobs as singers: time. One of his men hands out numbers to the patrons, and we then decided that the evening would be incomplete without the privilege of leading out "My Old Kentucky Home," the band. To cut it short, we took Jocko out to view the scenery from the other side of the roof, and left Taylor at the with a boogie beat! The situation grew worse, however, when with the first trombonist with the ski-jump nose. When we returned to the dining room, we heard a loud clatter. Looking up at the bandstand, we saw Taylor with a baton in her fist. The clatter was coming from her knees, which were getting together for the first time in her life. She led Kaye's band well enough to have made Doc Carpenter proud, and then they played Happy Birthday to Jocko, who blushed becomingly, and a fine time was had by all. (If it becomes obvious that we've been reading Gertrude Stein, just ignore it.)

Homer Hall dropped into town for a day or so, and we managed to take in a couple of spots. Together we made the following discovery: Rose Street isn't as pretty as the Latin Quarter, but it's a lot more comfortable!

Taylor and Yours Truly were taken out for dinner at a Long Island night club one evening. The band playing the supper music looked much more agreeable than they sounded, so we asked them to play "Kentucky." They couldn't remember it, so Taylor and Fischer sang it over her shoulder and over again until they finally caught it. Then, when they were ready to play it, they grew afraid of forgetting it, so we had to sing with the band. No, no band was playing there at the one offered us jobs as singers: time. One of his men hands out numbers to the patrons, and we then decided that the evening would be incomplete without the privilege of leading out "My Old Kentucky Home," the band. To cut it short, we took Jocko out to view the scenery from the other side of the roof, and left Taylor at the with a boogie beat! The situation grew worse, however, when with the first trombonist with the ski-jump nose. When we returned to the dining room, we heard a loud clatter. Looking

But we're in New York now and it's time that we got used to it. We had never gone to any parades here, but when General Wainwright passed through, a friend urged us to go. He said that it would be worth one while because if he, a calouse* showman, could get a hump in his throat, we certainly should enjoy the "humanness" displayed. So we grabbed our gloves and our father and dashed up to a friend's place on Fifth Avenue so we could get a clear view. And sure enough, when the crowds started cheering at Wainwright's coming, our eyes filled with tears. When we wiped the tears away, the General was gone. So we didn't see him. Then we wondered if it had been Wainwright or Arnold. Our friend said to Dad, "Was that Mrs. MacArthur in the back of the General?" "Gosh, returned to the dining room, we heard a loud clatter. Looking their horrible rendition, we let a WHAS program dedicated to helping Kentucky regain her true greatness

Only Kentuckians can restore Kentucky's greatness! Are you cognizant of the vital facts about conditions in our beloved State? Do you realize the value of a blueprint for Kentucky's tomorrow? Are you being blinded by the lustre of history from seeing present problems? To bring the facts to you, WHAS created and developed a weekly radio program to awaken Kentuckians to action.

"Wake Up, Kentucky" is a dramatic presentation of facts as reported by The Committee for Kentucky from its exhaustive research by experts. Some of the facts and figures are not pretty, or pleasing, nor do they bring a glow of pride to our faces, but they are accurate and authentic. Built around a typical Kentuckian, Boone Walker, kindly, resourceful, the confidant of all who know him, this intensely interesting program portrays in vivid word pictures the problems Kentucky faces in health, education, housing, welfare, its constitution, natural resources, labor, industry, agriculture, and taxation.

For an informative, interesting, thought-stirring, entertaining quarter-hour listen to "Wake Up, Kentucky" every Monday evening at 6:30 —840 on your dial—on Kentucky's clear channel

New Sororities Boost Total Greek Group

Group Will Sponsor Convo Speakers

Three new sororities are participating in the formal rush week activities on the campus this fall: Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Zeta, and Tau Alpha Phi. The first two are national organizations and members of the National Panhellenic Council, while the last is a Jewish local group.

Gamma Iota of Kappa Alpha Theta has its chapter house at 166 East Maxwell street and the officers are: Edith Davis, president; Mary Nelson Cregar, vice-president; and Helen Davis, rush chairman.

Alpha Theta of Delta Zeta has its chapter house at 185 East Maxwell, and the officers are: Nelda Napier, president; Carol Doub, vice-president; Margaret Grigsby, recording secretary; Suzanne Kirkham, corresponding secretary; Ruth Dameron, treasurer; and Beverly Gaulke, rush chairman.

Tau Alpha Phi officers are Rita Greenwald, president; Betty Lee Fleishman, secretary; Simone Hemming, treasurer; and Miriam Cohen, rush chairman. Tau Alpha Phi meets at the Student Union.

Chi Delta Phi To Publish Literary Magazine

Publication of a University literary magazine featuring contributions of campus writers is this year's aim for Chi Delta Phi, women's literary society. Date of the first publication has been set tentatively at December 1, according to the group's president, Miss Elizabeth McNeal.

First edition will contain articles by the society's members. Non-members who are interested in creative writing are urged to submit manuscripts for consideration before November 15. To be eligible a woman must have earned a 1.8 standing for two quarters in addition to submitting a worthy manuscript.

Papers should be submitted to the office of Miss Jane Hazelden, sponsor of the group.

Miss Hazelden will entertain the members of Chi Delta Phi in her home, 266 Lyndhurst place, on Thursday, October 11. At this first meeting the year's plans will be made for the magazine.

Weddings and Engagements

GORDON-McCONATHY

The wedding of Mrs. Ella Rommel Gordon, daughter of Albert J. Rommel, Louisville, and Lt. James A. McConathy, son of Mrs. J. Asa McConathy, Lexington, was solemnized in the Bardstown Road Presbyterian church in Louisville by the Rev. Angus N. Gordon.

Mrs. McConathy attended the University and is a graduate of the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina. Lieutenant McConathy is a graduate of the University.

Some relief is expected when the Lexington Trols meet is over, since houses have reported that they will have rooms available then.

Although plans have been underway for some time for the construction of a new dormitory for men, contractors refuse to bid for the building of the dorm because they are unable to obtain labor or materials, and that it will be impossible to build the new dorm until the situation is more stabilized.

Explaining why townspeople would not take in roomers and boarders as they did before the war, he said that there are two reasons: There have been no new houses built in town, and an influx of war workers has filled up all those that were available, and, second, the economic situation of many who took in roomers has improved so greatly that they no longer find it necessary to do so.

University Band To Play, March At Georgia Game

The University's "Best Band in Dixie" will appear for the first time under the direction of Frank J. Prindl, new band director, at the football game, October 13. Plans are being made for a full marching force at that time.

Any students who wish to play in the band but have not yet applied for admission into the organization may see Mr. Prindl in his office in the music building.

Mr. Prindl, recently appointed to the music staff of the University, is a graduate of the Milwaukee state teachers' college, and received his master of music degree from the University of Arizona. He has taught at the University of Arizona, Millikin University, and Murray State College. He has also studied one year under Joseph Gustaf of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Prindl is married and has two children.

Oh How Sore I Am

I am sore.

I am sore in heart, sore in my left arm and sore afraid. Furthermore, I am sore indeed in one place for someone waxed the floor of the dining hall to a high degree of slipperiness such as never before have I seen.

Why, you say lightly, should one be sore in heart in a fine, big dormitory filled to overflowing with the lulling laughter of sweet, unaffected girlhood? That, I say unto you, is just it! They laugh when the telephone bell rings (mine surely is out of order), they laugh when they open full mail boxes (people of course do not know where I am as yet), and they scream with pleasure at the sight of old familiar faces (I too, have a face at which they scream).

Then why be sore in your left arm? To the doctor, I said that my vaccination was 10 years ago. He shot in my arm the little microbe which, angry at being shot into just anybody, swelled up indignantly. I too was indignant, but more so when the next doctor started to excavate for veins in that same arm. I told him no veins or arteries or canals or anything such as that were there, and he said that I was not the one to tell him. But, I did know, and finally he drew 10 or 12 quarts from my arm, which also is sore a little bit, I think.

Then I am sore afraid because there may just possibly not be enough boys to go around. That hurts!

Last and most horribly terrifying fear of all is that instilled in me blow-by-blow by my long suffering professor whom I so honor and revere.

Oh, how sore I am!

A FLIGHT THAT NEVER LEAVES THE GROUND

A bomber crew needs training as a team. And now those hazards which are too dangerous for air-borne drill can be duplicated on the ground. This is made possible by an electronic flight trainer perfected by Bell Telephone Laboratories' scientists for the Navy.

At remote controls the instructor follows the "flight," sets up various dangerous conditions, coordinates the crew's reactions.

Tubes glow, switches click much as they do in a telephone exchange, to duplicate such flight perils as icing, fouled fuel lines, "cooked" motors. It is the science behind the telephone that here performs another new service to the Nation.

Summer Summary Of Names 'N News

Names made news this summer, as University students graduates and professors earned recognition.

Miss Anne Callahan of the art department won a scholarship to the University of Cincinnati's summer school. Lieutenants Richard C. Walker, Joseph P. Rose, C. R. Hartshorn, and Joe Gifford arrived on the campus as instructors in military science. Dr. C. Arnold Anderson was named head of the sociology department.

Latimer Teaches Abroad

Lucille Bush, graduate, was awarded an AAUW fellowship. Dr. C. G. Latimer left for England to teach in the American university of York soldiers. Dr. and Mrs. Morris Scherago feted the bacteriology department with their annual party. Dr. E. P. Farquhar returned to the English staff after an illness. Dean Alvin E. Evans of the law school was named an honorary member of the Peruvian institute of law and procedure.

Glen Clift, former assistant student, was chosen to write the Army's official history of the Italian campaign. Edith Conant, 1945 graduate, was the first woman to receive the E. B. Ellis memorial award in civil engineering.

"Adventures of a Legman"

Dr. Rodman Sullivan attended the national Civil Aeronautics Board to plead Kentucky's case for adequate interstate airline service. Former Kermelite Andrew Echdall's picture appeared in Life magazine June 4. Cpl. Paul Latimer was awarded the Bronze Star medal in Germany. Lt. Col. Gerald Griffin, former Courier-Journal bureau man, spoke to West Virginia's school of journalism on "Adventures of a Legman."

Former student Ray E. Murphy, a seaman, was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis. Leo M. Chamberlain, University dean, was named head of the newly formed Kentucky Research Foundation. Dr. C. C. Ross of the Department of Educational Psychology was named to the American study center, Shrivensham, England.

Clark Writes More South

Prof. Sylvan Brooks Walton was named head of the mechanical engineering department, replacing the late Prof. Perry West who died in April. First Lieut. James R. Maxedon, graduate, was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in Europe. Graduate Mary Elizabeth Rentz was named to Mary Institute at Washington University, St. Louis. Dr. T. D. Clark, was chosen to edit a book on southern travel, to be published in the Universities of Kentucky and Oklahoma.

Prof. E. J. Asher has been named to Purdue's psychology research foundation. Student Betty Lee Fleishman was awarded a four-week scholarship to Brandeis Camp Institute in Hancock, N. Y. Camp Nollau on Luzon was named for Captain George Penton Nollau, son of Prof. and Mrs. L. E. Nollau. Graduate Huguette Balzola represented the United States in an international union conference on world organization, France.

Mrs. Holmes Meets Cwens

Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women attended the national board meeting of Cwens in Cincinnati. Prof. E. T. Wightman, poultry department, has been asked to teach in the Army school in France. Dr. C. C. Carpenter, on leave since 1943, will return in the fall. Donald Irvine, instructor in English, has resigned to work toward his Ph. D. at New York University.

Drs. P. L. Mellenbruch, H. H. Humphries and A. D. Warren were announced as new members of the psychology staff. Graduate J. R. McCord, is serving the AMG in Bavaria. Three University squad members, Jimmy Barnett, Ike Weaver and Dick Hensley were selected to play in the West Virginia All-Star football game.

Julia Waters Flies

Former student H. Lester Reynolds arrived in Lexington after a war job of experimental lighting in the Aleutians. Graduate Julia Ann Waters received her wings as a stewardess for American Airlines. Graduate Douglas MacWilliams Dick was awarded a lead in a forthcoming Broadway play.

Harrison Elliott, composer of the first American folk opera, "Call of the Cumberlands," studied at the University during summer school. Cpl. Al Stanonis, former student, constructed an ammunition delinking machine for the Army.

Mr. Lawrence C. Brewer, director of UK agricultural broadcasts, resigned to enter business in Lexington.

End of the war and an immediate projection into the long-discussed "post-war world" were the undisputed highpoints of a summer marked by many important news events. From the summer 1945 Kernel we summarize:

Registration in 1945's summer school hit 988, including two ex-WAC's enrolled under the "GI Bill of Rights." Events of the first week were overshadowed by funeral services for Mrs. Frank L. McVey, wife of the president emeritus, and Dr.

William Francis Galloway, professor of English at the University for nineteen years.

First in a summer series of four teas at Maxwell place was given June 21, and Dr. Amy Vandenbosch, head of the political science department addressed the first convocation.

The Union Board began an active social program with a roof dance at Jewell hall in June 23. The library opened its sixth annual Invitation to Reading series with a review by Mrs. Virgil Steed of Rosamund Lehmann's "The Ballad and the Source." Other speakers were Dr. Capurso on "Tchaikovsky, Master Master," and Dr. H. W. Beers, on "Kentucky—Designs for her Future."

A. A. F. Offers Show

Thirty 3. standings for the spring quarter were announced as the Kentucky Research Foundation was discussed as a possible recipient of the Frances Jewell McVey scholarship fund. The Army Air Forces came to the campus June 29 to present in the Armory a summary of its training methods to civilian educators.

University radio station WBKY and downtown WLAF presented a Listeners Institute, and promoter Hal Hackett slated a UK day at Joyland on July 10. Interfaith Council opened a series of out door interdenominational vespers behind Patterson hall with a talk by the Rev. Othar Smith, Baptist student secretary.

Constitution Under Fire

Vocational rehabilitation delegates convened on the campus, and state legislators met in Memorial hall to discuss publicly a proposed redraft of the Kentucky constitution.

The University published a complete report of the Wenner-Gren collaboration charges leveled against the University in the Spring by 17 veteran students. Another meeting on the summer campus was the State Recreational Conference which met the last week of July. At the same time a state health workshop was in progress on the campus.

Harry van Walt spoke at the second convocation and urged mental disarmament of the German people. New soldiers arrived at the beginning of August to replace graduates of the AST program.

Bluegrass Show Successful

Guignol presented "Out of the Blue," a musical comedy about the Bluegrass to an appreciative audience. The show was written by a Lexingtonian Mrs. Danziel Hollingsworth with songs by Maury Madison, also of Lexington.

Plans for fall rushing, more complex with the advent of three new sororities to the campus, were announced on August 24, the afternoon before UK's first summer commencement since 1941. The principal speaker was Dr. Ellis Adams Fuller, president of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville.

Coach Adolph Rupp left for Europe to help in starting a sports program for Army personnel still aboard.

14 Faculty Men Return To Campus

Fourteen University faculty men who have served the world over in military, economic, scholastic and advisory posts return this quarter to resume their teaching duties.

In the College of Arts and Sciences these returning include: Dr. Adolph E. Bigge, head of the department of German; Prof. E. P. Farquhar, professor of literature; Prof. H. B. Holmes, assistant professor of Romance languages; Dr. Flora E. LeSturgeon, associate professor of mathematics and astronomy.

Mrs. Margaret M. Ratliff, associate professor of psychology; W. G. Hagg, assistant professor of anthropology and archaeology and curator of the University museum; Dr. V. E. Nelson, associate professor of geology.

Dr. L. A. Pardue, professor of physics; Prof. M. E. Potter, head of the department of physical education; Dr. Hobart Ryland, head of the department of Romance languages; C. E. Snow, associate professor of anthropology and archaeology; and Dr. Amy Vandenbosch, who has been serving the State department.

In the College of Law Dr. W. Lewis Roberts is returning, and in the College of Commerce, Dr. Cecil Carpenter.

Men's Glee Club To Be Reorganized

The men's glee club is to be reorganized this year, after an absence from the campus of several years. During the war the annual men's glee club concert, which is a regular feature of the Sunday afternoon concert series, had to be foregone.

The Glee club, under the direction of Lewis Henry Horton, of the music department, will now resume its place on the concert schedule. Plans are also being made for a combined chorus made up of the women's glee club, which is under the direction of Mildred Lewis, and the men's organization.

The group will sing everything from Bach to Negro spirituals.

All men on the campus who sing are urged to contact Mr. Horton and enter the club. Meetings are held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 p.m. Any wishing to enter should see Mr. Horton before Tuesday. Non-music majors will receive one credit hour.

Incidentally

Dr. Thomas D. Clark named president of the Society for the discussion of the Kentucky Constitution.

Dr. William H. Nicholls, son of Dr. W. D. Nicholls of the college of agriculture, awarded a $5,000 prize by the American Economic Association for a paper dealing with a suggested price policy. Dr. Nicholls is a University of Chicago faculty member.

Mrs. Lydia Brown, 84, for whom Lydia Brown hall on the campus was named died September 26 in Philadelphia. Miss Brown served as Patterson hall matron from 1915 through 1932.

Dr. Thomas Poe Cooper, dean of the College of Agriculture, reappointed director of the Central bank for cooperatives at Kansas City, Mo.

Ex-Wildcat coach Maj. Harry Gamage, named director of the Army Air Forces team in Honolulu.

Mr. Elmer Sulzer will meet with the executive committee and the general membership of the National College Publicity association in Urbana, Ill., October 22-24.

WBKY Broadcasts First Football Game

On Saturday night, September 29, WBKY (the University's non-commercial FM station) broadcast its first football game—Kentucky vs. Cincinnati. The station went on the air at 7:30 p.m. with a fifteen minute recorded program after which control shifted to Stoll field where Dick Lowe and John Sutterfield called the play-by-play account of the game. This was the first time a football game in the state of Kentucky had ever been broadcast over an FM station.

WBKY's regular program schedule will be expanded the week of October 8. Beginning on that date, the station will be on the air Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Stillwell!" And that was our first and last parade.

Before we sign off, we think it only fair to say that we've received immeasurable courtesies while buzzing around NY in Junior. (Junior, as our old friends and bruised enemies know, is an automobile.) And we've received these courtesies, instead of jail sentences, only because Junior is wearing a Kentucky license plate! New Yorkers are really wonderful when they're trying to impress out-of-towners. And it's really amazing to see what a Kentucky plate and a slight drawl can do when one needs a flat fixed, or when one is trying to make excuses for violating seven traffic regulations in a half hour!

Well, it's time to say goodbye till next Friday. If anyone would care to drop us a line now and then to let us know what's happening at our Alma Mater, please write to 111 West 183 Street, NYC. We'd love to hear from you. In the meantime, we'll keep on writing.

Donovan To Welcome New Students

A welcome to UK's new students and a discussion of the proposed Kentucky constitutional convention will be the theme of President H. L. Donovan's talk to the first convocation of the year, at 10 a.m. in Memorial hall on Friday, October 12. This convocation is sponsored by the Student Government association; subsequent programs have been worked out by the University administration, SGA and the Veterans' club working cooperatively.

Gaines Is Second Speaker

The second convocation, at 7 p.m. on Friday, October 26, will feature President Francis P. Gaines of Washington and Lee University. In the morning Dr. Gaines will speak to the annual educational conference and meeting of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Mrs. Raymond Clapper, widow of the famous journalist, will address the University's students and interested townspeople on Thursday, November 1. Her theme, "Behind the Washington Scene" will carry out the same inside-information type of thinking that made her husband a favorite of millions of American readers.

Chinese Journalist Coming

Final convocation regularly scheduled for this quarter is that on Friday, December 14, featuring the distinguished Chinese journalist, Mr. Hubert Liang. Mr. Liang spent the final days of the war in Chungking and speaks with authority about the East.

Further convocations may be slated later, according to the dean of the University, Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain.

SGA president Clay Salzer urged students to attend convocations this year because SGA had asked the University administration to allow students to arrange some of the programs. This direct student influence on programs is expected to boost convocation attendance this quarter.

The University Veterans' club is trying to bring Governor Arnall of Georgia to the campus as a speaker for a later convocation.

Building on three University structures will not begin until highest-grade construction materials are again available. The field house, men's and women's dorms will probably be started next June.

Kentucky Defeats Cincinnati In Fourth Quarter Spurt

11,000 Fans See Kentucky Triumph

By Charley Taylor
Coming from behind by scoring twice in the fourth quarter, Kentucky, led by Jimmy Barnett, defeated a hard-charging Bearcat team from Cincinnati 13-7 before approximately 11,000 fans at Stoll field Saturday night.

Leigh, taking Ferris' opening kick on the 20, returned it to the 29 and after Townsend only picked up 3 yards through the line, Hunt kicked on the third down to the Kentucky 25.

Ray picked up 5 on an end around and then skittered the same end for 18 to the Kentucky 49. Allen of Cincinnati then recovered Barnett's fumble on the Cincinnati 46.

McDonald intercepted Hunt's pass on the Kentucky 27, and Phillips, Ray, and Barnett followed alternating to bring it to the 40. After picking up 2 yards on two plays Grantz punted to the Cincinnati 28. Leigh, Klusman, and Townsend carried the ball to the Kentucky 24 on a series of line bucks, and Cincinnati was penalized 5 yards for offside. After an incomplete pass, Cincinnati punted to the Kentucky 25. Beard picked up two and then failed to gain as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter Play
In the second quarter Hunt returned Blanda's kick from the 25 to the 28. Hunt fumbled a pass from center and was downed on the 16 by Shannon. Hass blocked Hunt's kick and the Wildcats took over on the 10 as Hass recovered, lacking the necessary punch Kentucky yielded to the visitors on the 5-yard line.

Hunt kicked out to the Kentucky 35, but Kentucky was penalized fifteen yards for clipping.

Tunstill lost 12 on an intended pass when his receiver failed to break loose and his next pass was intercepted by Townsend on the Kentucky 36-yard line. Leigh picked up 4 yards in two attempts and Hunt's two passes fell incomplete with Kentucky took possession on their own 32. Yost and Tunstill carried to the Cincinnati 26 aided by Beard and Cincinnati called for time.

Tunstill Gains

Tunstill went to the Cincinnati 20, and then picked up a first down on the Cincinnati 12. With a five-yard penalty and Tunstill gaining two, Kentucky moved to the five, when Blanda made three but Tunstill lost three. On the fourth down Blanda's pass was incomplete and the Bearcats took over on their own six.

Blanda, passing against time, saw three of his passes fall short and then kicked into the end zone. Hunt passed for Cincinnati for the 29 as the half ended.

In the third quarter Yost took Townsend's kickoff on the Kentucky 15 and returned to the 32 and then after picking up 2 yards on an exchange of fumbles, Yost moved from the 36 to the 28. Tunstill made a first down and Kentucky, with Yost carrying the brunt of the attack, moved to the 14 where Cincinnati took over on downs.

Klusman broke loose to his own 41, two plays failed to gain but then Townsend picked up a first down on Kentucky's 49. Townsend failed to gain and Hunt threw two incomplete passes. Cincinnati's kick was taken by Beard on the Kentucky 20 and he was forced out on the Kentucky 35. Klusner recovered Blanda's behind the line pass and Cincinnati took over on the 27.

Cincy Snags Lead

Klusman, on the third down, raced between his own left guard and tackle for 27 yards and pay dirt. Workman converted and Cincinnati led 7-0.

Blanda's kick was returned from the 6 to the 33. After no gain DeDamo kicked to the Kentucky 31 and Tunstill returned to the 38. After Phillips had moved for three, Barnett took the ball around his own right end, aided by superb blocking, and galloped 58 yards for the second score. Ferris failed to convert.

Blanda kicked to the 3 and Fensel returned to the Cincinnati 27. Fensel and Klusman made it first and ten on the 45. Hunt passed to Reuhlman for another first down on the Kentucky 37. After making five yards on three plays, Hunt was smothered for 16 yards while attempting to pass, and the Blue and White took over on the Kentucky 48. Tunstill gained one, Barnett added 5 and Kentucky was penalized 15 for holding. Phillips gained 7 and Blanda kicked to the Cincinnati 24.

Klusman failed to gain for Cincinnati and Hunt then passed to the 38 for a first down. After three incomplete passes, Barnett intercepted Hunt's desperate heave as the final gun sounded.

Two-Hour Work Day Predicted By Webb

A world in which sub-atomic energy will do so many things that man will have to work only two hours a day to maintain his standard of living was predicted last week by Prof. William S. Webb, of the University chemistry department.

When that time comes, Webb told a luncheon club, man will have so much leisure time he will destroy himself. "Many folks are good," he observed, "only because they don't have the time and money to be bad."

Webb was one of a small group of scientists called to Washington several years ago to help select some 3,000 other scientists to work on the project which led to the atomic bomb. He predicted sub-atomic energy would be available for many peacetime uses within the next 20 to 25 years.

Congress, he declared, should stop "worrying about the Pearl Harbor inquiry and the 'impossible' task of keeping the atomic bomb a secret" and should devote itself to finding a way in which men can live together in harmony in a world "where leisure may be a liability instead of an asset."

To Return To Campus University Symphony

The University Philharmonic symphony orchestra, a war casualty during the past year, will return to the campus this fall, and the symphony concert will again be on the Sunday afternoon musicale list.

This organization, under the direction of Alexander A. Capurso, head of the music department, is not only a campus activity, but takes its place beside Guignol as a community project.

Anyone interested in entering the orchestra is asked to see Dr. Capurso at his office in the music building.

'The Lowe-Down'

By Dick Lowe

The 13-12 victory over Cincinnati Saturday night was the sixth consecutive victory for a Wildcat team against the Bearcats. The last time that a Cincinnati team defeated a Kentucky team was in 1919 but since then it has been the Blue and White all the way.

Coach Ray Nolting had primed his team to its best in anticipation for a winner over Kentucky, their big game of the year. Coach Nolting was also after revenge because he was a member of the 1933-34 team that suffered an upset at the hands of Kentucky, the last time the two teams met. Coach Ray Nolting predicted before the game that his squad was not in the right spiritual condition to win and most of the Kentucky fans have thanked the saints they weren't. The Cincinnati prognosticators claimed that the Bearcats didn't have a chance and that the score would probably be 50-0 in favor of Kentucky. But figures show that Cincinnati will be about as tough an opponent as the Wildcats will meet all season. The game Saturday night was played under reverse weather conditions to that encountered at Memphis. The thermometer registered 95 degrees in the press box there and was ideal football weather here.

More cool weather—Kentucky prayer!

Bill Chambers, who started in the Mississippi game, was unable to participate in the Cincinnati game because of an agreement between athletic officials of the two schools. Chambers played basketball at the Queen City school and was allowed to transfer to Kentucky provided that he did not play against Cincinnati in any athletic contest.

The white football that was used in the game was the first time in more than a decade that a painted ball has been used for a game on the University home field. The white ball had its advantages in giving everyone a good view of those long high punts that George Blanda kicks so regularly.

The remainder of the season consists of games with:

Michigan State—Oct. 6.....E. Lansing, Mich.
Georgia—Oct. 13.....Lexington, Ky.
Vanderbilt—Oct. 20.....Nashville, Tenn.
Cincinnati—Oct. 27.....Cincinnati, Ohio (night)
Alabama—Nov. 3.....Louisville, Ky.
West Virginia—Nov. 10.....Morgantown, W. Va.
Marquette—Nov. 17.....Lexington, Ky.
Tennessee—Nov. 24.....Lexington, Ky.

Ex-Student Honored

The Jedburghs, daring American resistances which dropped ahead of advancing Allied Armies, were honored by the Office of Strategic Services last week. Among their leaders was Maj. Robert K. Montgomery, former University student.

Major Montgomery, 25, has been in service almost four years. After a year in the European theatre, he was transferred to his present station in China a year ago.

In France, Belgium and Holland, Jedburghs in teams of three parachuted from Yank planes and trained resistance forces to be integrated with invading Allied troops.

Said General Eisenhower of the group, "In no previous wars have resistance forces been so closely harnessed to the main military effort."

Mississippi Tops Wildcats 21-7 In Opening Conference Game

Underdog Rebels Win At Memphis

By O. C. Halyard

Approximately 18,000 perspiring spectators saw the University of Kentucky Wildcats suffer a surprising and somewhat humiliating, 21-7, defeat at the hands of the University of Mississippi Rebels in the Southeastern Conference opener Friday night, September 21 at Crump Stadium in Memphis, Tenn.

Rebels Surprise Fans

Coach Harry Mehre's Rebels rated as underdogs by the experts before the contest showed surprising speed, power, and deception and gave the Kentucky fans a tough go of it. The Wildcats outplayed the Mississippians, but couldn't seem to get their attack functioning at the proper times.

Play By Play

Kentucky won the toss and chose to receive defending the west goal. Bill Chambers took Bruce's opening kick off on his own 20 and was dropped in his tracks. George Blanda dropped back to his own 15 to punt and booted the ball 70 yards down the field to the Rebels' 15. Mississippi drew a 5-yard penalty for too many time out and it looked as if Kentucky had the break they had been waiting for. Bruce punted to Beard who took the ball on the Kentucky 28 and returned it to the 42 before being brought down. Captain Yost hit the line for 3 and the quarter ended. Both teams put up a fierce battle moving the ball back and forth on the field. The Wildcats forward wall, especially Campbell and Keyser, did a nice job of stopping Ole Miss line plunges.

The Kentucky attack slowed down a little at the start of the second quarter until Hal Phillips took the ball on the Ole Miss 45 and carried it 25 yards before being pushed out of bounds on the 20. Kentucky was penalized 15 yards for clipping on the play and the ball was moved back to the 42. Later Blanda's punt rolled dead on the Mississippi 9-yard line. After one unsuccessful attempt to gain ground, Bruce punted up to the 50-yard marker. Beard took the ball there and returned it to the 35, but another 15-yard clipping penalty set the ball back to the mid field stripe and Kentucky's threat ended.

Campbell Intercepts

Late in the half Blanda's pass intended for "Dutch" Campbell was intercepted by Mike Campbell on his own 35 and he returned it to the 40 to start Mississippi's touchdown march. Bruce circled end for 15 to Kentucky's 45. The Wildcats drew a 5-yard penalty for excessive time cuts moving the ball to the 40. Worley plowed through the line to the 24 and then with only 15 seconds left in the half, Captain Bob McCain went around end for 24 yards to score. Kauer's kick for the extra point was good and Mississippi led 7-0.

Both teams played hard and rough during the third quarter but neither side was able to score.

Mississippi's second tally came in the final period when Center Bud Gerrard intercepted Blanda's pass and ran 50 yards for the touchdown.

Kauer's kick was again good and Mississippi led 14-0.

Fullback Jim Barnett ran 44 yards on an off tackle play behind beautiful down field blocking to score and put Kentucky back in the game. Fred Ferris kicked the extra point and the Wildcats were trailing in the game, 14-7.

With about four minutes left in the game Bob McCain successfully worked the end around again to score for his 20 and Kauer made his third extra point. Both teams tried everything in an attempt to score before the final gun sounded, but the game ended 21-7 with Mississippi in possession of the ball on their own 20-yard line.

Martha W. B. Theis—Ex
Martha W. B. Theis, daughter of Mrs. Mattie Blackwell, of Dixon, Kentucky, has arrived in Greenland, where she will serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross sta assistant. Before her Red Cross appointment, Mrs. Theis was assistant librarian at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. She is a graduate of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and also attended the University.

Curtis—Ex
Technician fifth grade Edward E. Curtis of Lexington, is now entitled to wear on his right sleeve the gold and yellow wreath denoting membership in a unit which has been cited by the Army for outstanding meritorious performance of duty.

His organization, the 96th Division band, has been so cited for its fine work on Leyte and Okinawa, where, in addition to handling their musical duties, the bandmen served as military police and command post guards.

Technician fifth grade Curtis, clarinet and sax man, is the son of Mrs. Marguerite Curtis, 121 Locust avenue, Lexington.

Brannon—Ex
Private First Class Jimmy C. Brannon, infantry scout and observer in the 43rd (Winged Victory) Division has been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received June 21 while in combat against the Japanese on Luzon Island in the Philippines. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Brannon, of 430 Euclid avenue, Lexington.

Private Brannon has returned to duty with this veteran Pacific division which has fought in four major campaigns during 35 months in the Pacific theater.

Hancock—Ex
William C. Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hancock, Midway, has been promoted to Technician Fifth Grade. Corporal Hancock has served overseas with the 103rd Infantry Regiment in the 43rd (Winged Victory) Division 35 months and is a veteran of four major campaigns in the Pacific—on Guadalcanal, in the Northern Solomons, on New Guinea, and lately on Luzon.

His long service with the 43rd Division stretches back to 1941 when the division was training at Camp Blanding, Fla. Corporal Hancock is on his way home back to the states now under the Army redeployment program.

Eversole—Ex
Second Lieutenant J. C. Eversole, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eversole, Sr., 401 Lytle Blvd., Hazard, is currently assigned to Mellaha Air Base, newest and most modern air base in the Air Transport Command's far-flung North African Division.

As pilot of a C-46, Lieutenant Eversole flies the all-year, all-weather routes of the North African Division, now engaged in the greatest air movement of troops and supplies in history. Ranging all the way from Natal to Rarachi, the North African Division is flying more mileage and passengers than all U. S. civilian airlines prior to the war and is being geared to move more than 600,000 troops home this year.

Davis—Ex
Miss Page Morris Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers G. Davis of The Grove Plantation, Natchez, Miss., received her commission as an Ensign SC(W) in the WAVES July 20 after completing four weeks training at U. S. Naval Training School for WAVE officer candidates, Washington, D. C.

Prior to attending officer training school, Ensign Davis was on duty as a specialist recruiter in the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, New Orleans. As an officer she will be stationed at the navy yard, Washington, D. C.

Ensign Davis enlisted in the Navy October 1, 1943, after attending the University of Kentucky. She has a sister on duty with the WAVES, Mary Rogers Davis, yeoman third class, who is stationed at the Navy reservation bureau, New Orleans.

Former Student Dies In Prison Camp

Thomas Spickard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Spickard, Princeton, Ky., former University football player, died February 20 in a Japanese prison camp after having been reported as missing in action since the fall of Bataan, it was learned by Bernie A. Shively, athletic director at the University.

Spickard was a regular guard on the 1939 Wildcat team. His wife is included among survivors.

This news was contained in a message from the War Department to the parents, Coach Shively said.

'Phalanx Row,' Aim Of Fraternity

"Phalanx Row," an avenue of trees from the Administration building to the library, is the long-time aim of the Phalanx fraternity, a YMCA-sponsored group for men.

President Joe Covington will outline the fraternity's fall program at the first meeting at noon Tuesday at the Colonial bowl. Plans for the tree planting program are for two trees to be planted yearly. The first presentation of trees will occur about November 1, Covington said.
